REACHES FOUR-MILLION MARK.

New York Crowding London for World's Largest City.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, June 15.—Late returns of the State census, now being made, show the population of the city has increased 20 per cent, or 400,000, in the last five years.

The census shows that New York has 4,000,000 inhabitants. This calculation is made on a basis of the returns from several assembly districts, made to Supervisor T. E. Ryan Jr.

It was ascertained that the major portion of the enumeration would be completed by Saturday. A large number of additional enumerators have been at work for the last week, and will continue to aid the regular census takers until the count is completed. At least another week will be required to finish the count. Most of the men who began work when the count started have remained steadily at it.

The last census returns of other large cities show that in 1901 London had 4,242,000 and Paris 2,740,000. In 1900 Berlin had 1,800,000.
